Christ in Us, the Hope of Glory in Missions

for the gospel and the church in Colossae for Christ. He considered his life as nothing and rejoiced in his suffering and filling up, through his afflictions, what was lacking in the suffering of Christ. Also, he became a servant by the commission God gave him through preaching the gospel of Christ and building his church, all because he knew Christ. He bore the shame of the mystery of the gospel that sinful men will be saved which was kept hidden for ages and generations, but was disclosed to Israel, the Lord's people. Also, through them, God chose to make known among the Gentiles the glorious riches of this mystery, which is Christ in us, the hope of glory. Christ is the one that Paul proclaimed, admonished, and taught with all wisdom, so as to present everyone fully mature in Him, with all the energy of Christ that so powerfully worked in him. There are many people in the world today that are still waiting to hear about this Christ. And Christ has already given to all believers the mandate of taking the gospel to the unsaved world. This is a mandate which you and I need to take seriously by praying, giving all and going out so that someone may be saved. In so doing, others will also experience Him in them, the hope of glory.

May the Lord whom you have known as your personal Lord and Saviour give you all that it takes for his glory to be seen in you and use you to reach out to someone who has not known Him, and to accept Jesus Christ into his or her life, so as to experience the joy of "CHRIST IN YOU, THE HOPE OF GLORY TO MISSIONS"!!!

EMS Field Mission Station Church Building Projects- Faith And Work In Action...

All over the world, the presence of a church building anywhere is symbolic of the presence of Christianity in such a place. For this reason, EMS missionaries dispatched to various field mission stations waste no time in erecting church buildings, firstly for the local members to meet for worship and secondly, to establish the presence of Christianity in these communities. The Bible presents the church as an entity made up of redeemed followers of Christ from every nation and era. When the Bible speaks of a "church," it means believers in Christ. However, when the church is spoken of, it is being referred to often in the context of the building in which a local group of Christians meet. The church's body is made up of many members, and for many of those members, the building they worship in is very important. Church buildings make it possible for people to get together for the liturgy. This is without question an essential function of church buildings and distinguishes them from the classical form of the temple in most religions.

the gospel of salvation through evangelism and church planting. This has been the cornerstone of EMS of ECWA for decades now. It is what has guided our policies and actions. The growth of ECWA today is arguably due the groundwork laid by EMS of planting hundreds of prayer houses that eventually grow to become weaned churches.

The mandate of EMS of ECWA is embedded in reaching all nations with Few examples of such church building projects in some field mission stations will be highlighted in this article to demonstrate God's power and ability open doors for the funds needed to plan and execute these seemingly massive projects.

A Project of Faith, Determination and Unity

The Story of EMS of ECWA Worship Centre Komta, Komta LCC, Tangale DCC.

Phase I of the Roofing Project of EMS Worship Centre Komta

The story of EMS Worship Centre, Komta Prayer House is an amazing story of what can be achieved if the people of God work together in faith, determination and unity of purpose. The Lord led the pastor to mobilize the members of the prayer house and together in faith, they took the project in their stride, and today, it is gradually nearing completion.

From the onset in 2017, when Rev. David K. Bature took over the leadership of the prayer house, he carefully studied what need the congregation had that was of top priority. The congregation resolved to seek direction from God through fasting and prayers, and what became apparent was the need to put a roof on the new church auditorium building and that marked the beginning of this project of faith backed by action and commitment.

Initially, the concern was how to begin such a Herculean task judging from the odds that were stacked high against them and considering the fact that 90% of the membership of the church comprised of youths who were either students or unemployed. The major challenge was how to raise the money needed to begin and sustain the project. The Lord led the way and a designated account was opened in the bank solely for that purpose.

For two years, between 2017 and 2018 the members of the congregation remained committed towards the realization of this objective. By the end of the second year a total sum of ₦2.5 million was realized as a result of contributions by the members of the church. The roofing which costed a total sum of ₦3.5million began in 2019 and was completed in the same year.

Today, the church has a roof over it and the congregation worships in a bigger and more spacious auditorium than they previously had. In addition to that, 170 plastic chairs were purchased for the use of the congregation. It did not end there; a member of the church was moved to purchase a set of musical instruments for the church. The members of the church according to the resident missionary, Rev. David K. Bature, are overwhelmed with joy because of God's grace and the victory granted to them so far in successfully undertaking this seemingly insurmountable project considering the odds that were stacked against them, and getting it to the level it is at the moment.

The task however is not complete. there is still more that needs to be done and it is against this backdrop that the church continues to seek for your prayers and support in any way possible, to enable it complete the project in terms of plastering the walls, fixing doors, windows, ceiling, electrification and building a pastorium.

What is remarkable about this is that the church itself is an EMS prayer house, not even an LCB yet. However, they are eagerly hoping and waiting to be weaned into an LCB once the criteria for that designation are met. Without doubt, the church has demonstrated that they are united and committed to becoming bigger and better to the glory and advancement of God's kingdom. We join in and prayer with them that this next big step in their growth as a church will become a reality soon.

This project is another remarkable example of God's provision that demonstrates what God can do if we put our faith in him. The missionary shepherding the prayer house, Rev. Musa Helan, narrated how the Lord used an individual who advised them to share the need for the roofing of their new church building with four certain individuals which they did and one of them responded and inquired about the level of progress of the church project and subsequently, he dispatched an engineer to take a look at the building, take some photos and report back to him. He called later to say that the roofing will be done by the grace of God, and that was exactly what happened. He undertook and completed the roofing and noggin of the church building. The materials needed for the work were delivered that same day. In addition to that, the individual who asked to remain anonymous stated that he was just serving God, donated 3 doors and 8 windows for the project. The pastor of the church expressed his satisfaction with the speed at the work was completed. "It surprising how within a period of seven days the roofing was completed" he remarked. He expressed gratitude to the anonymous person who sacrificed much to see that the roofing project was brought to completion. He said the church was grateful to the Women doubt send a very strong message to even the unbelievers amongst them that Christianity has been fully established in the community. It will also bolster the overall efforts of EMS of ECWA to reach EMS Prayer House Shere Centre is another remarkable example of how God opens doors where there seems to be none. The prayer house sits in the rugged terrain of Jos East Local Government in Plateau state. The community is predominantly Afizere (Jarawa) and the locals are largely traditionally predisposed.

Group in Gombe was not left out; they were impressed with progress of the work and decided give their support of 406 blocks towards the proposed pastorium building project. It staggers the imagination the ways in which God uses people to do His will and accomplish great things for His glory.

The relatively small congregation had hitherto been meeting and worshipping in a nearby government owned primary school for eight years. They least expected that within a short period of time they would have a befitting edifice for worship and meetings. But thanks to Rev. Joshua Aku from the USA, who sponsored the entire church building project from start to finish. This included the building, roofing, plastering and painting of the edifice. The entire project was completed within a short period of nine days. The good work did not just stop there; Rev. Aku also purchased 18 seven sitting capacity pews, alongside a modern altar, as well as modern doors and windows that all put together to give the church building an aesthetic look.

The entire congregation of ECWA Prayer House Shere Center is grateful to ECWA

Goodnews Mado, Jos for the role they played in bringing the church building project to realization, for it was through the church that Rev. Joshua Aku got to know about the need for a church building in the area and swiftly swung to action to make it happen. The presence of the church building in the community will serve as a beacon of salvation to the people in the area. The swiftness with which the task was completed will no every nook and cranny with the gospel of salvation.

The success story of this local church is not without challenges. To begin with, the land on which the church itself is built on has not been paid for. It was leased to them in 2016. Eventually, on 1st of November 2019, negotiations began for the sale of the land. The owners of the land of about fourteen and a half plots agreed to sell it for ₦90,000 (ninety thousand Naira). Besides the customary ₦5000 that was given to indicate desire to purchase the land and set negotiations in motion for that purpose, not a kobo has been given in respect to that purpose. Regardless, the owners graciously allowed for the building of the church and the pastor's residence on the borrowed piece of land. The congregation hopes that in no distant time the money needed to pay for the land and finally make it theirs will be realized. To some, ₦90,000 might look like a paltry amount, but in a community where the bulk of the population are low income farmers, that kind of money is not easy to come by. We join faith and prayer with the church of ECWA Shere Centre believing that in no distant time this objective will be achieved. At the same time, the door is open for all those who wish to contribute in any way towards the realization of this objective to do so to the glory of God's name and for the advancement of His kingdom.

A Child of Prayer

Miracle baby Alpha, held by Pastor Joseph Zakariya

EMS of ECWA Iddah DCC organized a mission outreach programme to Dugbana village in Suleja DCC between 18th to 20th March 2019. The power of God was made manifest during the course of the outreach as many people witnessed to through sharing of the word and the purpose of their sojourn in the area. The pastor and his wife, Justina warmly welcomed them to their home and treated them to a sumptuous meal. In the course of their interaction the team discovered that the pastor and his wife have been married since 2016 and for watching Christian films gave their lives to Christ, while many others rededicated their lives to serving Him.

Prior to that however, upon their arrival at the community, the outreach team met with the ECWA pastor in the community, Albert Agidi, and intimated him on three years, they had not been able to have a child of their own due to series of miscarriages. Mrs. Justina, they learned, had had three consecutive miscarriages since their marriage. The team was moved to pray for them after the couple narrated their painful experience. The Lord graciously answered their prayers and on the 31st of October 2019, Mrs. Justina Albert Agidi, gave birth to a bouncing baby boy who was named Alpha because, according to his mother, the Lord has done a new thing in their family to the glory of His name. She contacted the outreach team and informed them of what God has done for her.

This remarkable story is reminiscent of Hannah in the Bible who cried out to God to bless her with a child and the Lord gave her Samuel who went on to do exploits in the service of the Lord. We pray that Alpha will be a conduit through which great exploits will be accomplished for the kingdom of God, following in the footsteps of Jesus Christ to become a child of prayer and faith, two important cornerstones upon which EMS is hinged on.

Transforming Lives Through Sports

Years ago, EMS of ECWA entered into a partnership with Sports Friends Nigeria, a ministry of the international mission organization SIM out of a shared vision and passion that everyone should be reached with the good news of salvation through Jesus Christ. Sports Friends envisions a global movement of local church-centered sports ministries transforming lives and strengthening communities with the Gospel of Jesus Christ. The partnership was ratified in a memorandum of understanding between the two organizations in 2012 and was subsequently reviewed in 2016. So far, the partnership has thrived and continues to yield fruits.

Today's young people all over the world are faced with many struggles. Some of them woke up to find themselves in impossible situations such as religious and cultural identity crisis, poverty, gangs, cultism, sexuality, conflict, neglect, conformity, drugs, alcohol, disease, abuse, and broken or abusive relationships, to mention just a fraction. These challenges have placed them under increasing intense pressure and for one reason or the other, they lack the wherewithal to successfully navigate their way through these enormous challenges.

Because of this, many young people have become overwhelmed, despaired, hopeless and have reached a tipping point in their lives. How can the Church help young people address these issues that the youths have been inundated with and reach out to those living and dying without Jesus? EMS through the Sports Ministry has been collaborating with Sports Friends Nigeria on this front using the powerful weapon of sports and other recreational activities.

It is no secret that young people love sports and other recreational activities. They are powerful and effective tools for building relationships and sharing the gospel. Through collective efforts they are bringing a message of truth, hope, forgiveness and belonging to teeming youths who are searching for meaning, forgiveness and worth through relationships first built on the sports field. Sports Friends-trained coaches from the local church are bringing hope to youths and their families. Much more than a sports coach, these "life coaches" are mentoring and loving young people, leading them to Christ and helping them walk as mature disciples of Jesus. By God's grace, lives are being transformed, new churches established, and entire communities strengthened!

Typically, a sporting event organized by EMS Sports Ministry begins with opening prayers, observance of the activity (sport(s)) and teachable moments i.e. everyday situations and circumstances that provide opportunities to teach and share the word of God with participants, followed by a review of the teachable moments and sharing prayer needs. Lastly special prayers are said on the prayer needs shared. Subsequently there will be a follow-up for results and strengthening of relationships established with participants.

These strategies have proven to be potent tools for evangelism and discipleship to young people by engaging them in sporting activities which have the capacity to encourage them to participate in various community projects and they are usually very excited and willing to be part of these projects. The strategies have had a tremendous impact on their lives. We continue to receive remarkable and encouraging testimonies about the lives of many young people that hitherto left much to be desired but who have now been transformed for Christ. Some have gone on to make genuine commitments in their churches in various capacities. Bad character traits have been corrected on the field by coaches. Similarly, good traits have been encouraged in practical ways. Positive Inter-faith relationships have been established and promoted in many communities to encourage dialogue and peaceful resolution of conflicts.

The successes recorded did not come without challenges. The crises in some parts of the country such as the Boko Haram insurgency, armed banditry, and the violent activities of terrorist herdsmen have stymied plans to train and equip more missionaries to be involved in the sports ministry. Continue to pray for the peace of our nation so that the work will go on unfettered. The inadequacy of sports equipment to motivate and spur our active missionaries into participating fully in the great task of winning souls through sports is another clog in the wheels of the ministry's progress. Doors are open for you to support the ministry in any way you can through EMS of ECWA as we seek to provide an enduring framework for reaching out to young people with the message of salvation.

Reaching Bolawa Community: Progress and Challenges

For years the missionary family serving in Bolu have engaged the community through prayers and sharing of the message of salvation through Jesus Christ. Rev. Bulus has also intensified efforts to debunk the people's beliefs in the power of the blood of animals sacrificed during festivals and rituals to have any impact on their lives whatsoever. The idea has been to make them understand that Jesus Christ made the supreme sacrifice of shedding his blood on the cross of Calvary for the atonement of their sin and not the blood of goats and chickens.

Another initiative employed as a strategy to reach out to the Bolawa is focused on the children of the community. Usually parents are persuaded to allow their children to live with trusted Christian families in towns and cities. This accords them the opportunity to experience what the outside world has to offer and also gives them access to better education which will equip them for the future. The results of this initiative is remarkable, the few parents who agreed to let their children live with these families have expressed how proud and satisfied they are with the progress their

Bolawa is one of the ethnic groups scattered across the landscape of Toro local government in Bauchi State of Nigeria. The Bolawa people are situated behind Zaranda Rock. Despite modernization and the gradual shift away from some aspects of tradition and culture experienced by some tribes in the region, the Bolewas have remained more or less deeply rooted in the culture and traditions handed to them by their ancestors for generations. Their rituals and other traditional practices have remained untainted over the years.

with the gospel and the general progress of the work of missions in Bolu.

According to him, many of Bolawa people are idol worshippers who practice witchcraft and offer sacrifices to their ancestors, especially during harvest time. At such times a ritual known as "Daukan Dawa" is observed. Usually, during the period, a cockerel is sacrificed and its blood sprinkled on the harvest in a ceremony. Hundreds of the womenfolk wait for this act to be carried out and thereafter, each of them can take the harvest home.

children are making and the overall positive impact it is having on their lives. The best part is that the mission objective is being achieved because in the course of their sojourn with these foster families, they give their lives to Christ.

However, there are many of the children who wish to be given these golden opportunities but their parents are skeptical and reluctant to allow them to be part of the initiative. Many of them blatantly refuse to even allow their children to be part of the literacy and Bible classes organized by the missionary family.

Rev. Bulus believes that God loves these children and wants them to be saved. He also feels that many of them, if given a choice, will not want to tow the idolatrous path of their parents. He is optimistic that someday the Lord will bring these young ones into the fold through His mighty power. That is why they have not been deterred despite the lackluster attitude of most parents in the area who due to ignorance prevent their children from maximizing the golden opportunity that is at their doorsteps.

Despite the progress recorded, and as is the case with many mission stations located in remote villages the Bolu mission station is faced with many challenges; the community is not easily accessible and as such the missionary is in dire need of a durable motorcycle to make his work effective, and at the same time, less cumbersome. There is also no safe water for consumption. In fact, the community gets its water from the same stream where cattle and other livestock drink from. Thirdly there is a total absence of even the most basic social amenities such as schools, hospitals or dispensaries etc. This situation makes life difficult for the community. As stated by the EMS missionary in the area they're merely living by God's grace. We crave your indulgence to join us in prayers for the Bolawa to continue to see the light of God's salvation and be more favorably disposed to its message so that they will be completely emancipated from the stranglehold of long held arbitrary beliefs that do not have any foundation in nature and chart a new path that will culminate in the betterment of their lots and that of generations yet unborn.

The Search for a Cure Led him to Christ

Baba Lawi is an elderly resident of Kona community. In his younger days he was one of the prominent traditionalists of the community involved in all kinds witchcraft. Like the woman in the Bible with the issue of blood, Baba Lawi had traversed many places in search of a remedy to an ailment he had suffered from for quite a long time, spending a fortune in the process but all to no avail. After all his efforts proved abortive and the hope of finding a cure to his ailment got bleaker as the days went by, Baba Lawi, in a last-ditch attempt to find a solution called upon the missionary stationed at Bakin Kogi Prayer House, pastor Bitrus Danladi. When the pastor arrived at Baba's residence, the senior, asked to be prayed for and also revealed that the he had been having deeply disturbing nightmares. Without hesitation, the missionary alongside others, swung into action and fervently prayed for healing for o Baba Lawi and God demonstrated his power. A little later, the old man felt much better. Realizing the power of prayer, he took his faith a notch further and made the ultimate decision to give his life to Christ.

Today, Baba Lawi has turned away from his old ways and no longer practices witchcraft. He goes to church every day and has dedicated his life to Christ to the glory of God. Continue to pray for Baba's complete healing and the strengthening of his faith in Christ Jesus.

Women Fellowship Waja DCC Gifts Motorcycle To EMS Missionary

When the Leaders of ECWA Waja DCC Women Fellowship paid a visit to the EMS missionary they are supporting at Kukan Kundi Prayer House, neither they nor the missionary himself, Rev. Daniel Garba had any inkling that the visit will set off a chain of events that will culminate in the purchase of a brand new motorcycle that will meet the missionary's need for mobility.

Kuka Kundi Prayer House has been a conduit through which other new mission stations such as Dammare, Yaburo, Waja and Jukun Prayer Houses are accessed. The missionary commutes between these newly established prayer houses to coordinate and perform pastoral functions. To do so effectively, the need for a motorcycle became crucial and the answer to this prayer came in the nick of time. During their visit to the missionary they realized this need. Upon their return from the mission field after the visit, the leaders swiftly drew the attention of the Women Fellowship council members and the Christian Education Organizer of the DCC to the need in the mission field.

The DCC Christian Education Organizer welcomed the idea of purchasing a motorcycle and giving it to the missionary in order to facilitate his work in these areas. The Women Fellowship Adviser also supported plan and personally gave a token to kick start the process because she believed that God had spared her life to fulfill that purpose, after battling with a serious illness. Many others followed suit and the sum of ₦10,000 was realized that day.

After that, an arrangement for free will offering towards the project was made during the Annual Women Fellowships Conference of the DCC which took place in Kombo LCC. The women happily supported the project and the funds needed to purchase the motorcycle were realized at the conference. The motorcycle was purchased and presented to the missionary by the Women Fellowship in support of the work of winning souls for Christ. To God be the glory!

EMS Appreciates Rev. Simon Yako for Six Years of Meritorious Service as Director

An appreciation service was held in honor of the outgone director of EMS, Rev. Simon Yako and his family whose two term tenure of six years as Director elapsed in December, 2020.

Rev. Yahaya Bungule who coordinated the event, welcomed the guests and appreciated them for honoring the invitation by turning up. He stated that idea of the occasion was to show appreciation to Director for being an exemplary model by consistently demonstrating unwavering commitment to upholding the core values of the mandate of EMS. He said the outgone director demonstrated ability and willingness to help others on the team to understand and discharge their responsibilities. He described the outgone Director as relationship builder, whose primary objective is getting the job accomplished during his tenure. He praised the Yakos for showing great courage and resilience amidst daunting challenges in the course of serving in the Lord's vineyard. He prayed that God will continue to direct the outgone director in his next assignment.

Other highlights of the event include testimonies and encomium from friends and colleagues of the Rev. Yako as well as presentation of gifts and tokens of appreciation to the Yakos.

The service was graced by the attendance of EMS Regional and DCC Coordinators, staff and Heads ECWA Departments as well as friends and colleagues of the Yakos.

In his vote of thanks Rev. Yako thanked all the guest who graced the occasion stating that it was a great encouragement to himself and his family. He gave a brief testimony of God's faithfulness to his family right from the moment of his calling. He thanked his wife Ruth, who according to him "gave up everything" to be with him and has been his greatest support in the ministry. He prayed for God's grace and blessings to all the guests who turned up for the event. He also enjoined all the EMS staff as well as other departments in ECWA to give maximum support and cooperation to his successor in the same manner they did him.

MacPhillips Receives the Baton of EMS Leadership

The ECWA Executive has appointed Rev. Phillips Elisha Dudu (MacPhillips) to serve as the Director of EMS of ECWA from January 2021. He takes over from Rev. Simon Yako, whose two term tenure of six years elapsed in December 2020. Rev. MacPhillips hails from Zuru in Kebbi State. He is married to Ruth and they are blessed with four children namely; Emaka-Cho, Seske-Cho, Elaska-Cho and Beseke-Cho. MacPhillips is a graduate of English Language from Usmanu Danfodiyo University, Sokoto, he also bagged a Masters Degree from the University of Jos in the same field. He obtained a Masters in Divinity (Pastoral) from Jos ECWA Theological Seminary, Jos and a Graduate Certificate in Global Mental Health from Harvard University in the USA.

Rev. Philips Elisha Dudu and His Family.

Before his appointment as the Director of EMS of ECWA, MacPhillips had worked with both Sokoto and Kebbi

State Ministries of Education as well as the Great Commission Movement of Nigeria, Village Care International, Village Care Initiatives, Hedges of Mercy and the ECWA Theological Training Institute, Pisabu in Kebbi State as the principal. He has been involved in missions and different community development initiatives such as the Jesus Film Project, by the Great Commission Movement of Nigeria as the Regional Coverage Coordinator, National Director of Village Care Initiatives Nigeria. He also founded Hedges of Mercy, Nigeria and Badaska Parks and Recreation. He is also the country coordinator of Gemach Project, USA among others. Rev. Phillips derives pleasure in juggling with and creating new ideas, public speaking, traveling and driving. MacPhillips brings with him a wealth of experience in missions and community development that will be strategic to the realization of the vision and mission of EMS of ECWA in the 21st century, which is to spread the gospel of salvation to all the nations of the world through every means available.
